Councillor airs fears over plans MEETING URGED

A TOWN councillor has expressed concerns about plans put forward by council members in the Local Plan for Honiton.

The town council is proposing that Honiton be developed into an employment hub and that any new housing should be restricted to low-scale development.

Mike Allen, chairman of the East Devon District Council (EDDC) LDF Panel, is urging councillors to call an open meeting to discuss the plans. He said: "My concern is that the town council has been returned unopposed and has made plans which will affect Honiton for the next 15 years.

"The town council has recommended no new industrial premises nor housing should be built beyond the present town boundary.

"What this means is that, as the town council has also determined to protect the green space in the town, the only future is a major development in the centre of town which in the present circumstances can only mean more and more housing cramped into the town.

"It also means there will be little space for new offices and if the intended move of EDDC to Honiton occurs, there will be little industrial space for new businesses or for those who wish to expand.

"I feel the town council should call a general meeting to discuss the plan, not push it through behind closed doors."

Councillor Allen has also spoken out about plans to build a community complex on land at Dowell Street.

He added: "The town council community complex committee is recommending to proceed without delay to apply for planning permission for the building on the car park in Dowell Street.

"I propose that we instead take seriously the alternative for a cattle market site as part of redevelopment plans for the centre of town or look to purchase the Royal British Legion site and sub-lease it to local organisations while bringing in council offices."

A spokesman for the town council said: "Residents may wish to view the plan, together with details of the consultation, on the town council's website. Alternatively, a paper copy can be viewed or obtained from the council office in New Street.

"Members of the public are able to comment on the plan directly to EDDC before the end of September. The plan will be coming back to the town with the opportunity for further consultation in the autumn."

The town council was due to discuss plans for the community complex at a rescheduled town council meeting as we went to press last night.

Road crash

A CAR ended up on its roof after an accident on the A30 at Monkton, near Honiton.

Emergency services were called just after 4.40pm on Friday, September 16th.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The fire service received a call from police reporting a road traffic collision.

"One fire appliance from Honiton, one fire appliance from Ottery St Mary and one fire appliance from Middlemoor were mobilised with Watch Commander Brooks in charge.

"Fire crews confirmed one car on its roof.

"All persons were free and clear of the vehicle upon the arrival of the fire service.

"Fire crews made the vehicle safe and left the incident in the hands of police."

Market date

THE Sustainable Ottery September Community Market will take place on Saturday, September 24th.

The event will be held at The Institute in Yonder Street and will run from 9.30am until 12.30pm.

Items on offer at the market will include stalls selling locally produced, organic fruit and vegetables, free-range eggs and egg products, preserves and chutneys, apple juice and home-baked goods.

Plants and home made arts and crafts will also be available. Refreshments will be served.

Green exhibition at parish church

OTTERY St Mary Parish Church will host a recycling and environmental exhibition.

The event will take place on Saturday, September 24th, from 10am until 4pm.

Satish Kumar will be the guest speaker at the exhibition. He will give a talk on Green issues and answer questions.

Representatives from East Devon District Council, Devon County Council, South West Water, Sustainable Ottery, Eco Systems South West, Recycling in Ottery and the Little Green Solar Company will also be in attendance.

Exhibition organiser John Masters said: "Previous exhibitions have attracted around 500 people from the local community and past events have really helped to highlight environmental issues and how we can all make a difference by adopting a few simple changes to the way we live our lives."

Ottery-based solicitor Gilbert Stephens is sponsoring the project.

Liz Gover, from the solicitors, said: "We are really proud to support the recycling and environmental exhibition and look forward to learning, along with others, about how we can all do our bit to help the environment."

Youngsters who attend will be given the opportunity to learn about recycling and how to re-use everyday objects.

◆ PICTURED launching the exhibition are team curate the Rev Tim Treanor, Liz Gover and youngsters Erin Drew, seven, Lara Drew, eight, and Ella Martin, six, Hope Martin, eight. Guest speaker Satish Kumar will give a talk on Green issues and answer questions. Ottery-based solicitor Gilbert Stephens is sponsoring the project

Funds raised from the event will be split between the church and the Melanesian Mission. Organic and fair trade products and refreshments will be available.

For more information about the event visit www.gilbertstephens.co.uk/recycle.

Musician Alex wins national competition

POWERFUL lyrics have won Honiton-based musician Alex Madge a national competition.

Alex Madge's How? was chosen from hundreds of entries for soul band Refuge's Open Minds EP, which will be launched on World Mental Health Day on October 10.

The formal name of the event is Refuge Competition 2011 and Alex was one of three winners in the lyrics category. Alex said: "Winning is fabulous, but what's really nice is that my words may help someone else."

The 21-year-old singer, songwriter, artist and pianist explained: "I have been through nine years of an eating disorder and nearly a decade of depression and am proud to say that I'm still standing.

"I know there are people who have been through similar things to me and I hope that knowing someone else has been through it and has come out the other side will help."

The competition was run by Refuge and emerging mental health organisation SISO (Safe Inside, Safe Outside), which is supported by Advance Employment.

It encourages people to share their experiences of mental health through art, poetry, lyrics and photography.

The band's lead singer Peter Hirst, who has bipolar disorder himself, was delighted with the response.

He said: "Clearly people really support our aim of highlighting mental health, and the honesty with which they have shared their own experiences is very powerful," says the SISO development worker who turned the winning entries into a mighty musical offering with his fellow band members."

Alex wins VIP tickets to the launch event at The Y in Leicester and an iPod Touch, which has come just in time.

"My iPod Nano has been playing up lately, and I don't know what I would do if I couldn't listen to music," she said.

"That's why Refuge's project and the CD, which is awesome, is so powerful. Music reaches people in a unique way. "There have been times when I haven't been able to write and express myself, but I can listen to other people's words and they say it for me, which is therapeutic."

An A* student, Alex's glittering educational progress became a struggle just before her A-levels.

She said: "I think I'd been battling for control for a long time, and the anorexia was part of that. I was focusing on anything but the feelings I had. But I'm through to the other side now, feeling strong and ready to live my life. That feels good."

Alex, currently working full-time in an accounts department, has her sights fixed on a career in midwifery.

She will continue to write and touch others with her words. She is also keen to promote Refuge's EP.

"It is so important that everyone is talking about mental health, because it affects all of us," said Alex. "The more we talk, the more we learn and support each other and people won't feel so alone."

Everyone can enjoy the CD at www.refugemusic.co.uk/competition.

Campaign to save band

EFFORTS are being made to prevent the closure of Lyme Regis Junior Band.

Joy Fowler, who is involved with the efforts, said: "For many years, Lyme Regis has been blessed at its many events with performances from Lyme Regis Junior Band.

"Sadly, this may soon become a thing of the past as the junior band is facing closure.

"Lyme's only marching band has been a tradition in this town for many years, but even with music lessons costing less than elsewhere, two superb, traditional style instructors and regular visits and coaching of samba and rhythm from members of B Sharp, it has recently seen such a dramatic drop in numbers that organisers fear for its future."

A recruitment campaign is underway to boost numbers, and Joy said: "If you are aged between seven and 18 and you want to help save this tradition, all you have to do is join.

"You will then be given everything you need to become a valued member of the band, including an instrument (you can choose from cornets, drums and glockenspiels for traditional and get to use the vast selection of samba equipment), a uniform and weekly training sessions (one hour of traditional and one hour of samba) for you to be able to participate with confidence.

"All this costs only £4 per session." Training starts on Wednesday, October 5th.

The session will be from 6pm-8pm in the St Michael's Primary School, Kings Way, Lyme Regis, and training will continue for one month while the committee assesses interest.

More information is available by e-mailing Joy at joy@joyfowler.plus.com

COUNTY WILL SHUT SCHOOL

Only three pupils at primary

COUNTY councillors have decided to close down Dalwood Primary School at the end of the year.

The writing had been on the wall since a proposal to close was made and consulted on earlier this year.

Devon County Council (DCC) is the local education authority and its cabinet met on Wednesday, September 14th.

A report prepared for that meeting outlined the situation as follows: "Pupil numbers have fallen significantly to only three pupils over the past few years and the school is attracting fewer out-of-area pupils to help sustain it.

"Based on 2011 data, of the 26 pupils living in Dalwood's designated area, only three attended Dalwood.

"Trends are not forecast to improve and the level of surplus places at the school by 2014 is expected to be around 90 per cent.

"The DSG (Dedicated Schools

Grant) funded cost of educating each pupil at Dalwood is over three times the Devon average in 2010/11 and the school budget is currently supported in the region of 87,000 top-up funding.

"Moves to federate with Membury Primary School have been unsuccessful because the total number of pupils did not achieve a number which would secure the school's future.

"Other schools were approached regarding federation but without success.

"There was widespread circulation of the consultation document to all interested parties which attracted four responses — one in agreement, two comments/questions and one concerned.

"No objections were received. Two attendees at the consultation event held on May 6th did object to the closure but no formal submission was received."

The future of buildings and land at the school is unclear.

No sale has been agreed but various parties could enter formal negotiations to retain the buildings and land for "community use".

The report explained: "The school building and playing field are owned by DCC on a freehold basis.

"If the school closes, the property will then become surplus to requirements and will be sold at market value, having first considered any community needs.

"The community and parish councillors are considering drawing up a business plan to retain all or part of the site for community use, should the school close.

"In the event that closure is recommended, NPS SW Ltd (DCC's property services are delivered by NPS), would be instructed to liaise with the parish council over any future use."

The closing date is December 31st.

Pig farm in the spotlight

PLANS for a controversial development in the Blackdown Hills will be put under the spotlight by district council planning officials today (Tuesday, September 20th).

As previously reported here, Robert Bright, of Bright Farming Ltd, wants to increase the size of his pig farm at Broadhayes.

In August 2010 the scheme was given the thumbs-up by East Devon District Council (EDDC), but a change in the original landscape plan submitted with the application could prove to be a stumbling block for the applicant.

A planning document submitted to EDDC states: "The agricultural activity is essentially pig rearing and fattening for the food market.

"The proposed works are designed to address a long-running landscape problem. An opportunity now exists to resolve the incomplete works (at the farm), complete the construction of the farm unit and improve the efficiency of the unit and the wellbeing of the stock.

"Environmental drainage recommendations have been addressed and wasteland will be returned to agricultural use."

Mr Bright has around 3,000 pigs at the site, and residents in the hamlet believe this number could increase dramatically if the expansion plan is approved.

Dozens of residents have spoken out about the plans, with many fearing their health could suffer. Stockland Parish Council has also objected to the development.

In a planning report produced by EDDC ahead of today's meeting councillors recommended that "the permissions previously agreed by members are only issued if an acceptable revised landscaping plan is submitted" and that "should the applicants not comply with these requirements within one month of the date of the committee meeting that delegated authority be given to the Head of Economy to refuse the applications".

Curtain up on film night

HONITON Community Cinema will hold its first test film night on Friday, September 23rd.

The event, to gauge public interest in the idea, will be held at The Mackarness Hall, High Street. Doors open at 7.30pm.

Life in a Day, directed by Ridley Scott and Kevin MacDonald, will be screened.

Marianne Harmann, of Honiton Community Cinema, said: "The community cinema is grateful for support from Honiton Town Council, Wine World, A Dimond and John Gaffney Design and Print."

For more information visit www.honitoncommunitycinema.co.uk

Tickets are still available from Honiton Toy Shop and Honiton Tourist Information Centre at a cost of £3.

Dickies 'Worker of the Month' collects his prize

Paul Walker, Dickies 'Worker of the Month' for May, recently came to Mole Avon Trading in Axminster, Devon to receive his prize of £250 Dickies workwear.

Paul is an independent building maintenance engineer and top of his wish list was a new pair of work boots. Paul and his new boots are pictured here (left) with Dickies Regional Sales Director Les Willis.

UK Worker of the Year searches for workers who exemplify what doing a good job is all about and workwear giant, Dickies has expanded and enhanced the competition for 2011 to help better reach and reward the UK workforce.

The 2011 UK Worker of the Year will have a choice of car or van as part of their prize for winning the title and there will be holidays for the winners up as well as various products from the Dickies range of high quality workwear and from Makita Tools.

UK Worker of the Year is live for entries and nominations for the competition, which again is free to enter, and is open to any UK worker aged 17 or over until August 31st. The finalists will be invited to meet judges at the world famous Pinewood Film Studios in the Autumn, before the crowning of the UK Worker of the Year at a gala finale in November.

Pay on exit scheme for car park trial

A PAY on exit scheme could be introduced at a small number of east Devon car parks.

That is just one of the ideas that could be trialled by East Devon District Council (EDDC) as it reviews its off street car parks.

As part of the review, town and parish councils and chambers of commerce will be asked to coordinate a response and submit the response to the local authority.

A spokesman for EDDC said: "EDDC own and manage many of the district's off street car parks. These provide the district's towns and villages with an essential service to residents, local businesses and visitors to the area. They also contribute to the council's revenue budget.

"EDDC's elected members want to review the car parks to make sure they are being used efficiently.

"Town and parish councils have been involved in the drafting of an Off Street Car Parks Review.

"Now they, along with EDDC elected members and chambers of commerce, are being invited to have their say on the recommendations that have come from this review."

As well as a pay on exit scheme other ideas highlighted in the review include the offering of double ticketing arrangements to businesses and the introduction of different hourly rates for long-stay and short-stay car parks.

The spokesman added: "Residents are not being asked to fill in online questionnaires but to submit their comments to their town and parish council who can then submit one coordinated response from the whole parish.

"Likewise, businesses should direct their views through their local chamber of commerce."

Honoured

MEMBERS of Axminster Town Council observed a moment of silence to honour the memory of former town councillor Reg Brown, who died recently.

The moment of silence was observed during the full council meeting on Monday, September 12th. Axminster mayor Andrew Moulding said: "Reg was a very well respected member of this council for a number of years."

EDDC TO GET TOUGH WITH EXCESS WASTE

No more leeway on rubbish

A LOCAL authority is to toughen its stance on excess household waste, aka side waste.

Waste collection contractors applied leniency to help householders when the new waste and recycling service was settling in.

But there will be no more leeway as no side waste (extra bags or boxes of rubbish placed beside or on top of the wheelie bin) will be collected from any household from Monday, October 3rd East Devon District Council (EDDC) announced.

A council spokesperson said: "Whilst the new waste and recycling service was settling in, EDDC's contractors were taking a lenient line on side waste to enable householders to get used to using the three containers — landfill, dry recycling and food waste.

"Now that the system is working smoothly, it is time to comply fully with the policy — which is designed to encourage customers to contain all their landfill waste in the EDDC wheelie bin.

"SITA's [the contractor] crews will not take side waste that is left beside wheelie bins.

"Instead the side waste bags will have a sticker placed on them explaining that side waste will not be collected."

Excess recyclables will be collected by the crews, though. The spokesperson explained: "If you have more recycling items than you can fit into the green box, you can place it on top of the recycling box in carrier bags, but not black bin liners please."

District councillor Iain Chubb said: "Along with every council in the country, our aim is to reduce landfill to the bare minimum and to work with our residents to recycle everything they can.

"This is better for the planet and also saves local authorities from incurring EU fines for excessive landfill.

"The majority of our customers are keen to assist with this and are already doing a great job — thank you.

"We now need to work with those people who find it harder to limit their landfill waste and we will happily visit anyone who needs advice on this. If your bin is tagged, are you able to recycle more? If you find this difficult, give us a call."

Man's body on footpath

THE death of a man found on a footpath near Axmouth is not being treated as suspicious by police.

Volunteers working on a footpath discovered the body in the early afternoon of Thursday, September 16th.

The ambulance service, police and Beer Coastguard rescue officers attended the scene at Haven Cliff.

A Coastguard spokesperson said: "The recovery of the deceased was eventually completed after a long walk back through the narrow footpath."

A police spokesperson said that a man in his 60s, and believed to be from Lyme Regis, had been found dead.

The spokesperson added: "No suspicious circumstances."

Play auditions

AXMINSTER Drama Club is about to hold auditions for its next production, Aladdin by Ben Crocker.

Auditions for adult chorus and principal parts will be held on Thursday, September 22nd, starting at 7.30pm, at the plaza in West Street. Younger members will get the chance to audition for parts on Tuesday, September 27th at 5.30pm.

The club will stage its annual pantomime from Thursday, January 19th until Saturday, January 21st next year.

Competition for writers

HONITON and District Writers' Group is about to launch its 2011 Young Writers' Competition.

The competition is aimed at primary and secondary schoolchildren, and anyone entering has to write an original story on any subject.

The story must be no more than 750 words. John Carter, one of the competition organisers, said: "Last year was a great success and we had some wonderful work from many budding young writers."

"This year we are extending the competition to senior schools in east Devon as well. We know there is real talent out there."

The junior entries will be judged by children's writer TM Alexander and the senior entries will be judged by author Sue Purkiss.

Six winners will be chosen from the two junior age groups – five to eight and nine to 11 – and six from the two senior age groups – 11 to 14 and 16 to 18. The winners will receive a signed framed certificate, a gift token and a signed book from one of the judges.

All entries have to be submitted by Thursday, November 10th, and should be sent to John Carter, Smokey House, Yarcombe, Honiton, Devon, EX14 9AD.

Trailer theft

A 16ft farm trailer containing concrete channelling has been stolen from fields near Trafalgar Way, Axminster.

The theft took place between noon on Sunday, September 4th and 10.10am on Thursday, September 8th. Anyone with information is asked to call police on 08452 777 444. The crime reference is KA/11/380.

TRACTOR CHAMPS

MEMBERS of Chardstock Vintage Tractor and Machinery Club came up against the Dalwood Tractor Boys in a competition at Chardstock Street Fayre on Saturday, September 3rd.

The two clubs were tasked with dismantling a Ferguson tractor and putting it back together again in the shortest time possible.

The Dalwood club completed the task in a little under 10 minutes, while the Chardstock team took 11 minutes.

Jan Bond, secretary of the club, said: "Thank you to everyone for their generosity and to the boys from Dalwood for giving us some great entertainment. Thanks also to Sarah Williamson and her team for a great day out."

"The following day a ploughing demonstration was held in a field at Tytherleigh, where around 15 tractors took part. Everyone enjoyed the event and donations were given to the club's chosen charities."

"A big thank-you goes to everyone who made the ploughing demonstration possible, especially Rachel and her team at the Tytherleigh Arms who supplied everyone with a lovely lunch and Ken and Trudy for their unique way of making a brilliant tea."

Green Party fundraising

BUDGET cuts and business interests are on the agenda for the Green Party in East Devon.

The party is aiming to get a Green MEP from the region elected at the next European Parliament elections in June 2014.

A fundraising drive has been launched, and at the recent Exeter Green Fair the party raised more than £200. The party's next fundraising event is a sponsored bike ride along the River Exe on Saturday, October 8th.

Emily McIvor, Green Party co-ordinator for the South West, said: "Greens are needed more than ever at EU level as budget cuts hit and business interests lobby for relaxation of regulations."

"Green MEPs are campaigning to tackle climate change and boost the economy by raising environmental standards, protecting public services and preserving natural resources."

Award bid

AN Ottery St Mary business that also has a branch in Seaton has been nominated for a top award.

Abbott's DIY and Homeware will come up against other hardware retailers in the UK Hardware Retailer of the Year Awards at the DIY Week Retail Awards.

The winning store will be judged on customer service, price, range and feedback from mystery shoppers who will visit the store.

Chris Abbott, of Abbot's DIY and Homeware, said: "Abbott's has set up a Facebook page, where people can click 'like' to show their support for the store."

Call for blitz on scrap theft

THE company providing rail services through Axminster, Honiton and Feniton has demanded that anyone involved with cable and scrap metal theft is severely dealt with.

South West Trains (SWT) and its parent group, Stagecoach Group, called on the Government to introduce tough measures to tackle cable theft on the UK rail network.

Among other things, a demand for new rules to clamp down on unscrupulous scrap metal merchants was expressed.

SWT made its move in response to a recent incident of cable theft on its network near Woking.

The company admits it could have managed the situation better, and a spokesman said in a statement on September 12th: "SWT and Network Rail today announced a package of measures to improve their joint response to disruption on the rail network."

"Stagecoach Group, the parent group of SWT, called on the Government to introduce tough new measures to tackle the growing problem of cable theft on the UK rail network, including new rules to clamp down on unscrupulous scrap metal merchants."

SWT managing director Andy Pitt added: "The cable theft incident near Woking resulted in a huge human cost to our passengers."

"Both SWT and Network Rail should have managed the subsequent disruption better."

"We are sorry we let people down. A major incident can be the railway equivalent of part of the M25 being shut for several hours, with the same inevitable congestion and knock-on delays."

"The priority in these circumstances is to restore services as soon as is reasonably possible, keep passengers updated and give them useful information about their travel options."

We believe the steps we are taking mean we are better placed to make that happen."

Richard O'Brien, Network Rail's route managing director for Wessex, said: "The actions of mindless thieves caused unacceptable delays and disruption for tens of thousands of passengers"

Measures put in place by South West Trains and Network Rail include:

- More robust contingency and on-call arrangements
- A process to ensure better mobilisation of managers to provide assistance on trains and at stations during disruption
- More sophisticated Customer Information System at London Waterloo to show trains running during disruption rather than clogging the system with details of those cancelled
- Ensuring delayed trains are brought into stations where reasonably practicable so doors can be opened
- A small emergency supply of bottled water on most trains.

Points West presenter Chris retires after 28 years in BBC hot seat

BBC Points West presenter Chris Vacher, who grew up in Axminster, will retire in December this year.

He is the BBC's longest running regional TV presenter, having been on Points West since 1983.

Bristol-based Chris has been named Regional TV Personality of the Year by the Royal Television Society and recognised with a BBC Lifetime Achievement Award.

Chris told BBC Points West viewers on September 8th: "Finally before we go, I've some small news about myself for you."

"I have decided to retire from Points West in December this year. I am actually going to be 60 then, but I know you thought I was much older than that!"

"But I am proud to say I've been presenting Points West for the last 28 years, and it makes me the BBC's longest running TV news presenter anywhere in the country at the moment."

"But much as I have loved it and love working with such superb colleagues, I feel it's time to quit while I'm ahead and enjoy a well earned rest."

"The team will of course still be at your service every night and I know I leave the programme in exceptionally good hands."

"Anyway that's coming up in December. Meanwhile, you'll have to put up with me for a little longer. I'm back with the latest in the ten o'clock news tonight."

YOUR LETTER COULD WIN £10 VOUCHER

— As chosen by Pulman's View —

Homes view

EDITOR — I refer to your Star Letter from Alison Tottenham which appeared in Pulman's View on September 6th.

I live in a small village with access along Devon lanes. Currently the parish council is endeavouring to get affordable homes, which as things stand are often out of reach of younger people.

Villages require a mix of ages, and agricultural land to build on will be necessary, but not very much.

However, if building new houses has to occur in towns, yet again agricultural land will be taken up on a far greater scale, as we have seen over the years. Agricultural land growing crops is the same on the edge of a town or village. I am at a loss to see why Alison considers Devon lanes are not suited to housing developments.

Villages generally do not grow very fast and yet towns appear to do so. Not everyone has a desire to live in a town.

If properties were not, as often happens, bought as second homes, new houses would not be needed on the scale they are, thereby reducing the amount of land being taken up, and property would be more affordable.

W Slee, Dalwood.

Thank you Seaton for such a wonderful homecoming for me

EDITOR — My name is Shane Smith, and I lived and went to school at Ryalls Court between 1983-1986.

Although I do not have many good memories it was lovely to come back to Seaton 25 years later.

I came to Seaton on Saturday because my work meant I had to deliver a car from St Ives, Cornwall, to Weymouth and return a car back to St Ives, so I decided to bring my 15-year-old son (who has learning difficulties) with me to see the carnival (we don't seem to have carnivals like this in Cornwall for some reason) and what a pleasure.

After parking in Townsend Road to keep out of town, we walked in and had chips for our tea at Foleys, which we enjoyed very much before making our way to the fair which was nice to see. Herberts are still the operators and what a good fair we thought it was — something for everyone.

Making our way to the arcade and taking a walk along the beach brought back memories — names and faces of friends I once knew.

I spent some time looking at the town and seeing how it has changed.

The Interflora shop has moved up the hill, the newsagent next to the arcade has gone and so has the butcher that used to be on the corner at the top of the hill on the other side.

I also remembered Rainbow, which has been there forever, and the motor parts service, which was started by the cook at school with her husband just before I left.

When the carnival started at 8pm we went up the long straight past the fair to the roundabout, turned left and watched from the driveway of the house for sale. What a delight it was to see my boy's eyes light up and take lots of photos and video of the carnival, watching the girls opposite us dance to YMCA, while laughing and having fun.

What a joy to see the floats, majorettes and lights and listen to the music and other sounds.

Well done, Seaton. Well done, all the people who worked so hard to put this together, the police, ambulance service, Herberts fun fair and anyone I have missed out. But most of all, well done all the people who turned out to watch the carnival.

I thank you all so much for making it such a wonderful evening, especially for my son.

My biggest thank you is to my old friend Dawn Wheeler, who listened to me and took away so much pain that my memories of that place brought back.

If I had not found Dawn and talked about my painful memories, I could have never come back to such a lovely place, and I am sorry it took 25 years, for that to happen.

I now have more memories I must piece together.

If anyone remembers me or worked at that place, it would be nice to hear from you.

I may not get back to you quickly as I have so much going round in my head at the moment — names and faces I do not even know.

Thank you, Seaton, for giving us such a good evening, and I shall return soon.

God bless you all.

Great prices and service

EDITOR — In response to a letter in Pulman's View (August 23rd) I would like to say that we have been happily shopping in the main Seaton Co-op since we moved here five years ago.

The quality is excellent and offers a full range of prices from the Simply Value to the Truly Irresistable, with bargains every week.

Furthermore, it pays a dividend to all its members alongside its ethical standards and ethos.

The store is a friendly place to shop with helpful staff. Long may it remain in competition in Seaton.

More than £2,000 raised for our lifeboats

EDITOR — Members of Honiton & District branch of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution have had a busy few weeks with various collections being held in the district.

A two-day collection at Tesco's store in Axminster raised the terrific sum of £1,196.43 with a further £665.12 collected at the Honiton store.

A Flag Day in Ottery St Mary raised

£173.96 and on the same day £135.09 was collected at the Potters Store in West Hill.

Altogether this resulted in the grand sum of £2,170.60. The branch would like to thank all those who helped with the collections, including members of Axminster Rotary Club, and members of the public for their extremely generous support.

The RNLI is a charity operating a 24/7 search and rescue organisation that covers 19,000 miles of coastline in the UK and Republic of Ireland. It also works to promote sea and beach safety.

Lifeboat crews are mostly volunteers, men and women from all walks of life. They give up their time and comfort to carry out rescues and save lives at sea.

The RNLI's total running costs in 2010 were £145.4 million and it is entirely funded by donation and legacies

If you would like to help us in any capacity with our future fundraising, or you are interested in joining the branch, our chairman, Peter Goodes, would love to hear from you. He can be contacted on 01404 42081.

Lifeboat gifts, souvenirs and Christmas Cards will be on sale in Lace Walk, Honiton, on the Saturday mornings of October 1st, October 29th and November 26th.

The power of the flower

MUCH More Than Flowers was the title of Thorncombe WI's September meeting, when Sarah Cloud's talk and flower arrangements were enjoyable and informative.

Certainly Thorncombe Village Hall was a delightful sight with flowers in abundance, skilfully fashioned into a number of different shapes and forms, both traditional and modern, the perfume from which was superb.

At the end of the meeting a raffle was held and all the ticket winners were able to choose a flower arrangement to take home.

Tuesday, October 11th at 7.30 pm will be an Invitation Night meeting with supper at Thorncombe Village Hall. The speaker, David Beckley, will talk about the History of Magic and include some tricks. Bring along an unusual playing card.

New members and visitors are welcome. Contact Julia Snellcock 01460 30135 for more information.

My passion for making boats, by speaker Gail

THE speaker at the meeting of Axminster Probus Club on September 6th was Gail McGarva, who spoke on traditional wooden boat-building

Gail had had a long ambition to discover the skills of boat-building and gave up her career as a signer for the deaf when she was awarded a bursary to train at the boat-building academy at Lyme Regis.

Being a Scot herself, she decided that her first craft would be the "daughter" of a Shetlands vessel, and travelled there to obtain as much advice as she could from a local builder.

The boat took shape in Lyme with the help of her instructors and when completed, it was appropriate that it should be towed up to Shetland to be launched during a regatta.

It returned to the Cobb, where it continues to give exercise and enjoyment to young and old.

With her City & Guilds certificate obtained in 2007, Gail's next project was a 32ft Cornish Racing Gig for the newly formed Lyme Regis Gig Club.

Rebel, alluding to the Monmouth Beach on which Gail's premises are sited, was launched in 2008 to be followed a year later by Black Ven.

The Gig Club may now conduct races among themselves and have since competed against their more experienced rivals from the Scillies and Cornwall.

Work on a third gig, Tempest, begins next month, funded by contributions which the Gig Club is raising from the public by requesting sponsorship of the various parts of the craft. Around £500 will pay for the backbone, a thwart would be £80 and one of 42 knees is just £20. All are made from oak, elm and ash.

More information is available from the club's treasurer at andrewandbridget@btinternet.com

Last year Gail McGarva was able to build a Chesil Lerret, named Littlesea, after the water behind Chesil Beach, and the first to be constructed for many years.

A series of events has been taking place locally to celebrate this historic type of Dorset fishing boat, arranged by Lyme Regis Museum with support from the National Lottery.

Gail's enthusiastic illustrated talk was well-received by Probus Club members, vice chairman Eric Linton, himself a sailor, expressing their appreciation.

Axminster Probus Club, for retired and semi-retired business and professional men, meets on the first Tuesday morning of each month at the Ridgeway Hotel, Smallridge.

LIFE IS SO MUCH BETTER WHEN YOU CAN HEAR PROPERLY

When Ann Smythe from Taunton returned a questionnaire to Honiton Hearing Centre she never 'in a million years' thought her name would be the winning entry and was totally stunned on receiving a telephone call to say she had won.

As part of his degree dissertation, Colin Eaton, an independent qualified Hearing Aid Audiologist and Hearing Aid Dispenser recently sent out questionnaires to his customers. To encourage the return of them he offered a free pair of hearing aids to the person drawn out of a hat.

Ann has suffered with hearing problems all her life and after losing faith in the NHS decided to go to Colin in 2003 when he had a business in Tiverton and when his business opened in Honiton, Ann duly followed.

She says she is always treated really well and with respect by Colin and his wife Sam and continues to use Honiton Hearing Centre as they provide an excellent and friendly service. Ann comments, "Nothing is too much trouble and they are just a lovely couple!"

Ann's new custom-made Starkey CIC (Completely In Canal) hearing aids are so tiny they fit invisibly in the second bend of the ear canal where no one can see them. They are very comfortable and are designed to be removed daily and easily for better ear health.

When they were first fitted and Ann got into her car, she had to turn her stereo down 5 notches as it was far too loud! The new hearing aids have made such a difference to her life, both at work and socially. She would recommend that anyone with hearing issues should visit Honiton Hearing Centre, as life is so much better when you can hear properly!

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THIS column seldom has news of the Archbishop of Canterbury, but it is of interest that Dr Williams plans to go to Zimbabwe soon to meet the president despite the campaign of intimidation of Anglican Christians by his police.

It is hoped that this first visit by a British leader for 10 years will bring good news.

Ten years on from the 9/11 attacks in the USA, the Methodist Church is remembering the terrorist atrocities by challenging the UK government's arms trade.

The Church wants the Government to reconsider its military response to extremism and, in a statement with the Baptist Union and the United Reformed Church, it said it was "sad and ironic" that regimes such as Colonel Gaddafi's had been supplied with arms by Britain.

Parishes in east Devon are now into the season of carnivals and harvest festivals, the latter going on into October.

In medieval England, Lammas Day (August 1st) was kept as a thanksgiving for harvest, but the custom was most recently revived by the Rev R Hawker at Morwenstow, Cornwall in 1843.

Provision is now made in a number of prayer books for suitable readings and prayers. Dates and times for these special services will be available from local churches.

News now from the west end of Pulman's Country — St Paul's in Honiton is holding a quiz night on September 24th, including supper in the Mackarness Hall.

Then on Saturday, October 15th the church dance will be held in the same hall.

The Church of the Holy Family in Honiton reports a massive £540 for the CAFOD East Africa Appeal.

Pastor Darrell, from Kilminster, writes: "We all know a great welcome when we receive it."

"Whether it is an invitation to have the best seat in the living room, a cup of tea or even a meal, the authentic and genuine welcome will always be easy to spot."

"And there is a welcome waiting at local churches for you. Many churches will be participating in Back to Church Sunday on September 25th."

"Nationally, Baptist churches have developed their own take on this, and called it 'the Big Welcome', as a recognition that many people have never been to church, let alone felt the need to come back."

"What will be a priority for these churches will be the quality of the welcome. So if you have stopped going to church, or have never been to church, why not give it a go this Sunday? You can go on to find participating churches or to see the details of Kilminster Baptist Church's Big Welcome service at 10.45am at Kilminster Village Hall."

"But whatever church you go to, you can be sure of a really great welcome, where no-one ever need feel like an outsider."

Who is this star in stripes?

◆ FOLLOWING recent sightings of large cats and puma-like creatures in and around Axminster and Seaton, it is 'feared' that a tiger is roaming the area too.

Axminster resident Peter Selhurst snapped this photo and said: "Forget about the Dalwood beast."

"My friends and I snapped this animal that we believe to be a Bengal tiger in the Cloakham area of Axminster."

"It was just wandering through one of the fields and then disappeared into the bushes."

Frank's big Arctic adventure

A COLYTON Grammar School student is travelling to the Arctic to take part in a unique project.

Year eight pupil Frank Hartley set off with his dad, Alex, at the weekend in an attempt to transport part of a small island from the Arctic to Weymouth Harbour.

Alex discovered the island, since named Nowhere Island, in 2004. He then won a competition linked to the 2012 Olympics, to bring part of the island back to Britain to create a floating sculpture in Weymouth Harbour, in time for the Olympic sailing events.

Frank, 12, said he was excited about the project and added that it would be "fun but cold" and that he would miss his friends while he was away.

Preserve the great outdoors

THE coast and countryside has been put under the spotlight by the East Devon District Council (EDDC) Local Development Framework (LDF) panel.

At the latest meeting of the panel, on Tuesday, September 13th, members heard from EDDC officers, representatives of Natural England and the public.

A spokesman for EDDC said: "The panel were united in their support for environmental protection and their belief that these themes will need to run through the new local plan like a golden thread, feeding into other issues such as climate change and sustainable development."

Speaking after the meeting, Mike Allen, chairman of the LDF panel, said: "We know from Natural England's latest report that the countryside and seaside are vitally important to residents, which is why we were concentrating this session on coastal and local green areas."

"We know most visits involve walking in some form and that health and satisfaction with the locality are strongly linked to green areas and seascapes."

"We are determined to ensure that our policies for future development are based on the very latest information and to examine the critical importance of farming, tourism and green space inside towns before we finalise any policies in October."

Website launched

THE Devon Advice Network (DAN) has announced the launch of a new website, which offers detailed information about benefits, health, employment, legal rights, consumer issues and more.

TONY JACKSON

Time for a sloe vodka?

HOW infuriating! A large rat has taken to climbing up to a bird feeder hanging directly in front of my office window a mere yard away.

The feeder contains niger seed for goldfinches and yet the brute can still manage to extract the seeds through the tiny holes.

I keep an air rifle handy for such contingencies but every time I appear round the office door, suitably armed, the rat bounds off before I can get in a shot. I will have to think again!

Meanwhile, my swallows seem to have departed, none having been seen for several days and are doubtless now setting out for the long trek south. I see from the latest Axe Estuary newsletter compiled by David Walters that the marshes seem to have been swarming with interesting birds. Ruffs, peregrine falcons, sparrowhawks, a hobby and a kestrel have all been seen, but the first migrating osprey has yet to put in an appearance. A maximum of 15 little egrets was counted, and migrant passerines included wheatears, a single reed warbler, chiffchaffs and a whitethroat. As usual, the Axe Valley estuary is a thriving source of such a wide variety of wildlife and we are so fortunate to have it in our region.

Meanwhile, I hear that a regular Dorset Wildlife Trust (DWT) volunteer, Brian March from Hamworthy, has won the chance in a raffle to cut the last remaining invasive rhododendron on Brownsea Island.

The final cut will be made this month and will signify the end of the long battle to eradicate this flowering shrub from the island.

Introduced in the 19th century, it soon spread across the woods, suffocating trees and wild flowers and threatening the red squirrel population. Any re-growth will be sprayed over the next few years to make sure that the shrub does not re-appear.

To celebrate its 50th anniversary the DWT is inviting everybody to join in with a dining night on November 12th by hosting a dinner for friends, with all finds raised going towards protecting wildlife for the next 50 years. Diners can join in with the Big Wildlife Raffle and auction on the night and keep in touch with what's on the table at venues across the county via twitter and facebook.

DWT aims to have at least 50 different dinners forming part of the event on the night.

The Trust has a hosting kit with ideas for formats from fine dining to safari suppers as well as suggested donations from guests and templates for invitations and menu cards.

If you'd like to join in with the Golden Dorset Dinner Night email dwtvents@dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk or ring 01305 264620.

The new edition of the Blackdown Hills Countryside Events programme is now available and crammed with ideas for walks, activities and workshops.

The ever-popular courses include wood carving, map reading, hedge laying and nature photography and there will be a mushroom hunt and a chance to visit Loughwood Meeting House with an expert guide.

The booklet is available from local Tourist Information Centres and libraries, as well as some shops and pubs or call the AONB office on 01823 680681 for a copy.

As an aside I have been picking delicious mushrooms in an adjacent field for the past week, the hedges are laden with blackberries and I have seldom seen such a harvest of sloes.

I have already obtained my gin in anticipation of a fruitful and alcoholic harvest for the winter months ahead!

Incidentally, one can also use vodka to make sloe vodka, and this is, I can assure you, equally delicious as the traditional gin formula.

Young Farmers with a crush...

YARCOMBE Young Farmers have been crowned winners in a competition held at agricultural shows throughout the summer.

Club members took part in a weigh-in where they had to cram as many members as possible into a Synergy cattle crush and on to a weigh plate.

The weigh-ins took place at Honiton Agricultural Show, Gillingham and Shaftesbury Show, Melpash Show and the Dorset County Show.

Lucy Le Cocq, organiser of the competition, said: "We were delighted to have so many Young Farmers' Clubs getting into the spirit of things and taking up our challenge."

"We recognise that young farmers are the future of the industry, which is worth £1.4 billion in the South West."

"It's important that they are supported in any way the industry can and are kept up to

£1,600 instruments

CHILDREN at Honiton Primary School can now make sweet music, thanks to a donation from the school's Parents, Teachers and Friends Association (PTFA).

More than £1,600 was raised at a recent sponsored bounce at the school and the funds have been used to purchase the instruments.

The new equipment includes drums, tambourines, maracas, rainsticks, glockenspiels, xylophones and octachimes.

A spokesman for the primary school said: "Children at Honiton Primary School love to make music."

"Mrs Crozier, the school's brilliant music teacher, purchased many different tuned and untuned percussion instruments."

Support your blooming community, Seaton urged

MEMBERS of Seaton in Bloom Committee are determined that the town will blossom this year.

It is also hoped that the town will pick up a gong or two in the process.

Now the committee will hold a public meeting for those interested in preparing the town for South West in Bloom 2012.

The meeting will start at 7pm in Seaton Town Hall tomorrow (Wednesday, September 21st).

Committee member Gaynor Sedgwick said: "South West in Bloom is not just about flowers. There is a strong emphasis on education, partnership working, volunteering, sustainability and recycling.

"In Bloom tackles everything from litter, graffiti and anti social behaviour to conservation, sustainability and improving horticultural standards.

"Community involvement is vital and your ideas are needed. The town council would like to see individuals, businesses, community groups and clubs getting involved.

"Our theme in 2012 will be the Royal Jubilee and the Olympics and we already have many ideas including improved floral displays in and around the town and competitions for the best gardens, shops and pub fronts.

"But for this to happen, we would like to see the community pull together and share ideas."

Art group puts its talents and skills on show

HONITON Art Society held its 47th annual exhibition and sale at the Mackarness Hall in the town recently.

At the opening night on Tuesday, September 6th, the awards were presented to exhibitors by Robert Julius.

The awards presented were: Gwendoline Beer Bowl – Paul Redvers; Eric Goddard Award – Paul Hardy.

Rosemary Marker Award – Sally Boom; Mitre Box Award – Tricia

Tarr; Honiton Art Society Cup – Barbara Whitely; Maggs Award – Caroline Budd.

Ron Lawrence Bronze – Carolyn Barker; Weller Rose Bowl – Maureen Stone; and the Taylor Cup – Liz Lindsay.

Police advice on campsites

POLICE in Seaton have been busy carrying out property marking events and giving security advice at caravan parks in and around the town.

During the last two weeks of August, PCSOs Mike McGauley and Chris Bolsover visited several caravan parks in the Seaton and Beer area. During the exercise the PCSOs also spoke to holidaymakers.

PCSO McGauley said: "Given that this area is a popular caravan holiday destination, we thought it would be a good idea to visit the local sites during the holiday period to offer advice and to engage with both campsite owners and tourists visiting our area.

"Many visitors appeared impressed with what we are doing and will be contacting their own local neighbourhood teams to see if a similar initiative has been or can be set up in their area."

PCSO Bolsover added: "In addition to providing advice, we property marked around 50 mobile phones and 15 laptops. The campsites have been very supportive and we have been asked to run the initiative again in the spring.

"We have also been asked to return to the sites in the near future to permanently mark valuable site equipment.

"In the meantime, we are assisting the sites in setting up a local ring-around scheme whereby the camps will get in touch with each other and the police if they notice any suspicious activity, including strange vehicles driving through their sites."

Tony is the new town clerk

MEET Seaton Town Council's new town clerk, Tony Le Riche.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Seaton has been without a permanent clerk since David Mears left the post earlier this year.

Mr Mears was suspended from the role on full pay to allow an investigation to take place. Following the investigation Mr Mears resigned.

The nature of the alleged problem has not been revealed by the town council.

GET READY FOR WINTER

Keep warm, stay healthy and save money this winter!

1. Switching

Many people choose to leave their heating off as much as possible during the winter simply because they can't afford to heat their home.

It's essential to heat your home properly, especially if you have older people or children in your household as they're more vulnerable to illnesses caused by the cold. The best way to make savings on your energy bills, without having to suffer in the cold, is to switch supplier - it can save you as much as £200.

2. The right temperature

Turning your thermostat down by just one degree centigrade can save you 6% on your heating bills - around £30 a year. You probably won't notice the difference that this makes in your home, but if you do find that you're cold at home, rather than turning the gas up, simply set your boiler to come on a little earlier, that way you won't be cold while you wait for the house to heat up.

3. Layering

You might think this is an obvious one, but many people don't realise that the best way to keep warm is by wearing lots of thin layers of clothing, rather than just one bulky item. Slippers indoors are another great way of keeping you toasty, and it's also a good idea to wear a hat or headscarf outside, as lots of heat is lost through the head.

4. Eat right

Your body needs food to keep itself warm so what you eat can make a real difference. Try to eat a balanced diet, with hot dinners and don't forget that hot drinks can help too.

5. Exercise

A bit of exercise does wonders to get the blood flowing and keep you warm. However, you don't have to sign up at your local gym in order to keep fit; doing a little housework, like vacuuming, will keep you moving and help to keep you warm. Sitting for long periods of time makes you colder so you could try spacing activities out through the day, so that you can alternate between rest and activity.

6. Stop smoking

Since the smoking ban came into place, all smokers have to go out into the cold whenever they want to light up. But giving up has another way of keeping you warm too; smoking actually slows down your circulation so you'll get colder quicker.

The benefits of stopping smoking are huge - and fast. Within just eight hours of giving up your blood oxygen levels return to normal and circulation begins to improve after just two weeks - helping to keep you warm from the inside (Department of Health, 2006).

7. Keep warm at night

Many people forget the importance of keeping wrapped up and warm at night. You don't need to keep your heating running all night though. Just set it to come on about half an hour before you get up, and wear bedclothes and socks. You could also use a hot water bottle, or an electric blanket - though not together of course.

8. Close the windows

Don't have your heating running with your windows open at the same time. Many homes have radiators situated underneath windows, so if you have them open, you'll be losing your heat as quickly as your boiler can make more.

Also, cold air on the head at night has been proven to increase blood pressure so make sure that, even if you like fresh air in the house, you keep bedroom windows closed - especially at night.

9. Insulate your home

You don't need to double glaze your windows or spend hundreds of pounds having your cavity walls filled to make your house a warmer home - although it does help.

Hanging thick curtains on the front and back doors, and using cheap draught exclusion strips on windows and brushes on the bottom of doors keeps cold air out and warm air in so your boiler won't have to work as hard to keep you warm, and you won't have to work as hard to pay for all that gas you're burning.

10. Check your boiler

If your boiler is more than 10 years old it might need replacing. By law all new boilers fitted in the UK have to be energy-saving condensing boilers. These A-grade boilers are extremely efficient - using as much as 96% of their fuel - and can cut your heating bills by up to 40% a year, which can be as much as £200, definitely a good investment.

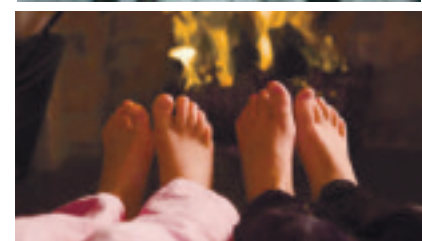

Don't get left out in the cold this winter!

GET READY FOR WINTER

Great for building snow men, but not for our driving conditions!

Extreme weather conditions and icy roads can make driving more difficult, especially in winter. By following the Highways Agency's advice you can help to make your journey safer and reduce delays for everyone.

Be prepared for bad weather. Make sure you don't get caught out when severe weather strikes.

Check and service your vehicle. You can reduce your chances of breaking down by regularly servicing your car.

You should also:

- Top up anti-freeze and screen-wash
- Check for wear and tear on wiper blades (replace them as soon as they start to smear rather than clean windows)
- Make sure your battery is fully charged (batteries last between two and four years - replace yours if it's no longer reliable)

- Keep tyre pressure at the manufacturer's recommended level and check you have at least 3 millimetres of tread
- Wipe dirt and spray off headlamps and make sure all bulbs are working

Carry an emergency kit, a basic kit should include:

- Map
- Jump leads for the car battery
- Torch
- Warning triangle
- Ice scraper and de-icer
- First-aid kit
- Warm clothes

If you are planning a long trip or if severe weather is forecast, you may want to add:

- A shovel (if there's a chance of snow)
- A pair of boots
- A blanket
- Any medication you need to take regularly
- Food and a thermos with a hot drink

Sunglasses are useful too, because of the glare in snowy conditions.

Plan your journey and check weather and travel advice

Ask yourself whether you really need to travel or if you can delay your journey until conditions improve.

If you must travel, plan your journey carefully.

Before you set off:

- Check live traffic information online or by calling the Highways Agency live traffic information service on 08700 660 115 (England only) - be prepared to delay your journey or change your route

• Plan your route, including breaks at service areas if you are doing a long motorway journey

As you travel:

- Listen to travel news and weather on local radio (if you have a digital radio set it to Traffic Radio)

• You can check conditions on the road ahead using Highways Agency Traffic Information Points at service areas and other venues

REMEMBER LAST WINTER

You should have ordered when I reminded you!

COLYFORD GOOSE FAYRE

This year's Fayre will follow our traditions and maintain the unique medieval theme once again

THE fayre will commence on Saturday September 24 with the procession from The Elms in Colyford led by the Exeter Morris Men with the Mayor of Colyford Mr John Mills and His Lady Vicky.

Arrangements for the procession have been tortuous this year but we are confident all the stringent regulations will be met.

Many of our regular supporters return again to the Springfield on Seaton Road including the Plymouth Medieval Dancers, Sarah Shoemith with her circus tricks; Mere Down Falconers are bringing their wonderful birds of prey, Windwhistle Archers will join us to take care of the archery range.

Woodruffe school Early Music group will provide the music to promote the medieval atmosphere and the Sutton Household return again this year in their fine costumes.

Our traditional Mummers play is in rehearsal and a new young dragon will take the stage!

All the usual refreshments ale, cider, elderflower champagne, apple pies the ram roast and much more will be available

The Colyford Goose Fayre was revived in 1980 under the leadership of Colin Pady and has been held every year since then on the Saturday closest to Michaelmas.

In the early days the fayre was held in the grounds of the Old Manor Hotel but when that site was developed the fayre moved to the present site of Springfield, on the Seaton Road, thanks to the kindness of the Dupee and later the Pountney families.

A large number of villagers and friends dress in medieval costume and form a procession starting at the Elms. This colourful procession of many hundreds of people follow the Mayor of Colyford and his lady down to Springfield to the accompaniment of much music and jollity from the Mummers and the many providers of medieval music.

The fayre always tries to maintain it's medieval setting. Goods are sold under tents and various produce is available - honey, pancakes, ram-roast, pottery, leather - and of course beer, tea and cakes. Numerous medieval style skills are on show with metalwork, bodging, thatching and archery as well as childrens entertainment in the quintain and the greasy pole.

Among the entertainers there are mummers, strolling players, dancers and, the highlight of the afternoon, the mummers play. Local residents perform this play, written and produced by Jean Wakefield, in a light-hearted and humorous manner and it is always very well received by the locals. The afternoon always finishes with an auction of geese. Lately this has become a mock auction as over the years it was found that many people were not keen on obtaining a live goose, which obviously entailed killing, plucking and drawing before it could be enjoyed at the table.

The fayre has become a major feature in the local area and several thousand people attend every year. Any profits from the fayre are used for the village and some local organisations also benefit. From the outset it was decided that the aim of holding the fayre was not to make unwarranted profit but to hope to gain enough to stage another fayre in the following year, for the benefit of all the local people.

Procession through the village starts at 2pm, fayre opens at 2.30pm. Entry £3 per person, children accompanied by adult under 14 free, join in the fun! Medieval dress is optional. Visit www.colyfordvillage.co.uk/goose.html for more details.

OUT & ABOUT

● ON the opening day of Lyme Artsfest week last Saturday (September 17th) Axminster Artisans were due to hold a one-day art and craft show in Woodmead Halls, Hill Road, Lyme Regis.

People who appreciate handmade art and crafts browsed the work of 19 local artists and crafters selling their quality products at the festival.

Meanwhile, children enjoyed supervised art and craft projects in the small hall, and having their faces beautifully painted or having a portrait drawn by a professional artist.

● THE Dukeswell Farmer's Market will take place on Saturday, October 8th.

The event will run from 10am until noon and will be held at the Throgmorton Community Hall.

Fresh local produce, plants, crafts and local services will be available.

Refreshments will also be available during the market.

Mob-handed students

STAGE

COLYTON Theatre Group's contribution to Colyton Carnival Week was a double-hander of a production by students from its annual summer school, plus a supporting contribution from some of its more senior members.

This year the students were fixed with a production of Buggy Malone by Alan Parker.

Ably led by tutor Denis Noonan from the renowned Italia Conti school, with contributions from older students such as Alex Hall, who also directed, and Jessica Barrett, who also choreographed the production, the company enthusiastically and professionally entertained us with the classic songs that are so much part of the stage production and the film.

Their all-round performance in both vocal and dramatic aspects displayed huge degrees of talent and confidence and bodes well for their future. No doubt we shall see many of them again in this year's pantomime.

Once again directed by Lyn Henley, the more senior members gave us Mobsters and Money, with the ladies and gentlemen of the chorus performing both collectively and by themselves a selection of songs and readings enjoyed by all.

The final number, a version of Shirley Bassey's Big Spender, performed by the whole company but including the gentlemen in various forms of dress, was hilarious.

Cary's breath of fresh Eyre

JANE EYRE (PG)

THE Bronte sisters are back in fashion this autumn.

November heralds Andrea Arnold's eagerly anticipated adaptation of Wuthering Heights, distinguished by the casting of James Howson as the first black actor to portray Heathcliff on the big screen.

Meanwhile, director Cary Joji Fukunaga spoils us with his artfully composed version of Charlotte Bronte's timeless romance, the first film version of Jane Eyre since Zeffirelli paired Charlotte Gainsbourg and William Hurt as the lovers across the social divide.

Fukunaga chose Mia Wasikowska as the much abused heroine and is rewarded with a deeply moving and emotionally wrought performance.

With a single mournful look into the camera, the fast-rising Australian actress conveys all of the unspoken desires and shattered dreams of a young woman who has survived as much by her wits as by good fortune.

She is both beautiful yet ghostly pale, flushing with colour when Jane experiences the first pangs of love.

Michael Fassbender proves a sexy and brooding Rochester, who falls under Jane's spell but conceals a terrible, dark secret that could poison their relationship for ever.

FILM

Fukunaga's colour-bleached film opens with Jane (Wasikowska) fleeing Thornfield Hall in tears. Here she has been employed as governess for Adele Varens (Settbon Moore), the young ward of Edward Rochester (Fassbender).

Stumbling across the moors, she seeks refuge with clergyman St John Rivers (Jamie Bell) and his sisters Diana (Holliday Grainger) and Mary (Tamzin Merchant) at Moor House.

As Jane recuperates, she recalls her turbulent past.

She remembers her childhood as a 10-year-old (Amelia Clarkson) with her cruel aunt Mrs Reed (Sally Hawkins).

"She has a heart of spite and she is full of wickedness," Mrs Reed tells Mr Brocklehurst (Simon McBurney), the sadistic headmaster of Lowood charity school, who spirits Jane away to her grim fate.

A friendship with a sickly girl, Helen Burns (Freya Parks), stiffens Jane's resolve and once she comes of age, she finds employment at Thornfield, where housekeeper Mrs Fairfax (Dame Judi Dench) welcomes her warmly.

Fleeting romantic notions with Rochester are extinguished with the arrival of Blanche Ingram (Imogen Poots), who the downstairs staff believe will become the master's wife.

However, something wicked lurks in the upstairs attic.

Elegantly adapted for the screen by Moira Buffini, Jane Eyre condenses the source novel into two hours of yearning and regret.

Wasikowska and Fassbender lead an exemplary ensemble cast, including Dench as a bustling maternal figure and Hawkins as a tight-lipped lady of the manor, who can turn a room icy cold with a single withering glance.

Fukunaga's camera sweeps over the foreboding locations, lashing his lead actress with enough wind and rain to match the emotional battering meted out by Mrs Reed and Mr Brocklehurst.

Jane is a survivor and we will her on through every faltering step.

Christmas Wine & Dine

Ridgeway Inn can cater for functions, food and more...

WHETHER you are looking for a relaxing break, a room for the night or a romantic wedding venue, the Ridgeway Inn at Smallridge in Axminster is in the perfect location.

If you wish to relax, to entertain or to dine in style, Kevin and Carole are on hand for your personal service and to make your experience special.

The Ridgeway has been awarded three stars by Visit Britain in the small hotel category.

We have an assortment of dining areas. The Rafters Restaurant is a large and spacious room suitable for weddings, parties, family gatherings or business events, the restaurant offers privacy for large scale groups and events whilst retaining a cosy atmosphere for dining couples.

The Dining Room offers a luxurious 1920's feel whether you are dining with friends or relaxing by the stove with a coffee after your meal.

For that exclusive dining experience book the Granny's Parlour to enjoy an early 1900's, late Victorian atmosphere for an intimate experience for groups of 2 to 6.

For al fresco eating the Chapel Garden is perfectly suited with lovely views. Sample menu includes Battered Mushroom fritters with Garlicy mayo, or a Fishy Salad Platter, more details are available from our website.

There are various guest rooms available at the Ridgeway Inn to suit all tastes.

Our Cherry room is sumptuous, decorated in a late Victorian Bohemian style, with bespoke bedroom furniture made from solid cherry wood, and includes a king size bed. The piece de resistance is the en-suite bathroom. A free-standing, Victorian style, roll top bath, with rain shower over. This room has been designed to present a very decadent feel.

Our Ash Room is a stylish and contemporary room of neutral colours. It offers fantastic views over the village of Smallridge and beyond into the East Devon countryside.

The en-suite bathroom contains a bath with shower and is similarly decorated in a contemporary style.

The Oak Room is large and has three windows looking out on to wonderful views of the countryside. It is decorated in a 1930's monochrome style with occasional flashes of red. This room contains a super king size bed and a modern wall-mounted fire.

The colour scheme continues into the bathroom, which houses a large contemporary bath, with a rainwater shower and double wash basins.

The Beech room has been designed to a modern standard with a country classic feel and features a comfortable super king-size bed. This is a large room with an excellent view across the valley to Hawkchurch.

The en-suite bathroom is cosy and warm, featuring a large bath with shower and includes a real fireplace.

If you have any queries please visit the website at www.ridgewayinn.co.uk or contact the inn on 01297 32171.

Public Notice

NOTICE OF PROPOSAL TO MODIFY DEFINITIVE MAP ORDER WILDLIFE AND COUNTRYSIDE ACT 1981

Notice is hereby given pursuant to paragraph 8(2) of Schedule 15 to the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 that the Inspector appointed by the Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs to determine the Devon County Council (Footpath Nos. 13, 14, 15 & 16, Farway, 18, Southleigh & 12, Colyton, and Byway Open to All Traffic Nos. 17.18 & 19, Farway) Definitive Map Modification Order 2009 proposes to modify the Order by providing for the following:

In all cases, the title of the Order shall be worded as "Devon County Council (Restricted Byway No. 19, Farway) Definitive Map Modification Order 2009".

Aside from BOAT No. 19, delete all of the details regarding the routes from the Order Maps and Schedules.

Replace the remaining references to "Byway Open to All Traffic" in the Order with "Restricted Byway".

Delete from the fifth and sixth lines of the description of the proposed Restricted Byway No. 19 in Part 1 of the Order Schedule, "alternately above and below the line between points marked R and S".

Amend the relevant Order Map and its key to show a restricted byway.

A copy of the Order as submitted and a copy of the Order showing the proposed modification together with the Inspector's Order decision dated 22 June 2011 have been deposited at the offices of Colyton Parish Council at the Town Hall, Market Place, Colyton between 10 a.m. and 12 noon on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; at the offices of Honiton Town Council at the Council Offices, New Street, Honiton; and at Room ABG, Lulcombe House, County Hall, Exeter between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday to Friday and may be inspected free of charge during normal working hours.

Any representation or objection with respect to the proposed modification may be sent in writing to Helen Sparks, Room 4/05, Temple Quay House, 2 The Square, Temple Quay Bristol BS1 6PN, tel 0117 372 8065, quoting reference FPS/J1155/7/86, between 16 September 2011 and 14 October 2011 and must state the grounds on which it is made. It should be noted that any such representation or objection may be made available for viewing by interested parties at the council offices on request.

Dated this 16th day of September 2011.

Our Golden Selection

Colyford, Converted Chapel - £445,000

A delightful and enchanting 2/3 bedroom detached home located at the heart of Colyford. Constructed originally as a Wesleyan Methodist Chapel in 1833 with part stone and part colour washed elevations under a slate roof, the vendors have converted and extended the chapel to provide a spacious and flexible character home with a number of period-style features. The property is surrounded by most appealing plantsman's gardens that were laid out by the vendors' son who, we understand, is a Gold Medal winner at Chelsea Flower Show. The gardens are filled with a profusion of choice shrubs and plants too numerous to mention and really must be inspected to appreciate the delightful setting they afford the property. The accommodation includes entrance porch, entrance hall, super farm house kitchen with Aga, living room, cloakroom, studio or bedroom 3 plus 2 further bedrooms, master en suite together with a garden room. In the gardens is a sizeable barn/workshop that would provide a double garage if required and there is additional on site parking for a number of vehicles. For more information please contact John Wood & Co on 01297 20290

Shute, Farmhouse with Outbuildings - £525,000

A most attractive and beautifully presented three bedroom detached farmhouse located in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and with gardens and grounds approaching approximately three acres with a good standing of trees, formal garden and paddock area. This exceptional property has two detached masonry buildings in the grounds that offer further development potential and could provide the basis of a home office, studio or holiday lets subject of course to the usual consents. The paddock areas would also be suitable for equestrian ownership or form the basis of a small holding keeping of other animals including of course chickens. The farmhouse accommodation includes at present study/hall, sitting room, formal dining room, kitchen/breakfast room, shower room and utility room on the ground floor. The first floor comprises three double bedrooms and bathroom. Outside there is a detached garage, extensive vehicle parking and the out buildings, gardens and grounds mentioned above. This is a delightful country property and is worthy of inspection to appreciate the delightful setting that the property offers. For more information please contact John Wood & Co on 01297 20290

Colyford, Spacious Chalet House - £339,000

A most attractive and spacious three/four bedroom detached chalet house located in a semi-rural location on the outskirts of Colyford and yet close to all the village amenities. Constructed with colour washed rendered elevations with some brick detailing under a tiled roof the property occupies good sized gardens which provide a most attractive setting for the property. The spacious and flexible accommodation offers three bedrooms and a family bathroom on the first floor with the ground floor comprising spacious through living room, conservatory, separate dining room or bedroom four, study area, kitchen, cloakroom, side hall and a single garage. Gardens are attractively landscaped to front and rear and feature a pond. There is a productive vegetable area with a greenhouse. For more information please contact John Wood & Co on 01297 20290

John
Wood

Colyton, Detached Bungalow With Large Garden - £250,000

An attractive detached three bedroom bungalow located at the end of a quiet cul-de-sac with a superb sheltered and private rear garden backing on to open fields. Constructed with colour washed rendered elevations under a tiled roof, the property has had the benefit of replacement uPVC double glazing to most windows and gas fired central heating. The property has been well maintained but would now benefit from some further updating and improvement. The accommodation includes lounge, separate dining room, kitchen, cloakroom, three bedrooms and family bathroom. There is an adjacent single garage en bloc and two further parking spaces and gardens to front and rear. For more information please contact John Wood & Co on 01297 20290

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

Luke tackles surf, wind and rain to finish tenth

THE junior section's year runs from September to September, so the awards for last year's juniors were presented at the Club Night on September 12th.

The Boy Runner of the year was Josh Coates, and Girl Runner of the year Lydia Clapp. Most Improved runner was Emily Elliott and the Chris Levene Perpetual Trophy for Endeavour was won by Andrew Watson.

The Junior AVR handicap winner for September was James Hansford in 19:50, followed by Alex McLoughlin, 19:58, and Ed Polley, 20:04.

Luke Reed decided to tackle the Weymouth Classic distance triathlon. On arrival in Weymouth Luke noticed that the waves were particularly big, and thought they might change the event to a Run/Bike/Run. No such luck. The 1500m sea swim went ahead as planned, and after the swim came a 25-mile hilly bike course that was made even harder by severe cross and head winds.

Thankfully, the 10k run was slightly more sheltered from the wind. Luke finished 10th overall out of 150 starters in 2:37:38. Splits were as follows: swim – 36:34, bike – 1:16:16, run – 41:46.

Luke also participated in the Langport Sprint Triathlon, where he had to battle through heavy rain for most of the event.

The race consisted of a 400m outdoor pool swim, which he completed in a personal best of 6:44 mins. A 22.5km bike ride followed, which, with the rain and wind, was very dangerous, but Luke finished it in 41:44. Finally came a 5km multi-terrain run which he completed in 21:45, giving him an overall time of 1:10:13. Luke came 10th overall out of more than 300 brave competitors.

Gavin Warren ran the SLaMM half marathon at Langport and finished in 2hrs 26mins. He would have finished quicker, but a polite farmer decided to take down a few signs at 7.5 miles and left about 20 of the runners scratching their heads wondering which way to go.

Eventually they did find the right track but it put them back about 10 - 15 minutes. Retro Reynolds and Geoff Woodward would have run the full marathon, but they got lost trying to find the race start and didn't realise the half marathon started later. Kevin Glover did run the full marathon and was delighted to finish 15th in 4:05:34.

To get over the disappointment of the last-minute cancellation of the Poltimore Pootle, Graham and Diane Newton travelled to Wiltshire to take part in "King Alfred's Torment", a seven-mile cross-country around the Stourhead Estate.

The race organisers promised them hills and mud, and they certainly got that in plenty. It had been raining heavily earlier in the day and continued to do so off and on throughout the race. The route works its way through beautiful scenery past romantic sounding places such as Six Wells Bottom, St Peters Pump and Alfred's Monument.

But there was nothing romantic about the miles of mud that our intrepid pair had to plough through to get to the finish and collect their reward, one of King Alfred's burnt cakes. Well done to Graham who came in as second over 60 male veteran, 44th overall in 58 mins. Diane was pleased to come in at 145th in 1:32 in what was her toughest race to date.

CHARDSTOCK BOWLING CLUB

ON Sunday, September 11th, 12 players travelled to Cullompton to play a 4-rink mixed triples friendly match. Final score was 71-67 to the home team.

Captain Barbara Sluman welcomed Sidmouth Ladies for a 3 rink triples friendly on September 12th. Final score was 57-41 to Sidmouth.S

On Tuesday, September 13th 16 members travelled to South Petherton BC to play a 4 rink mixed friendly match. Final score was 81-57 to the home team. On Friday, September 16th a team of 16 players travelled to Axminster BC to play the last match of the season, a 4 rink mixed friendly. The final score was 102-59 to Axminster.

Paul scores brilliant 41 in howling winds

Superb Stableford score to collect memorial trophy

SUNDAY'S Stableford had the added frisson of playing for the Gerry Hartley Memorial Trophy.

Any rain that tried to fall was quickly dispersed by a very high and incredibly annoying wind.

The early scores showed the competitors' frustrations by being in the mid-twenties but others stuck stoically to the task.

None more so than Paul Coates in Division 1 who won the day and the trophy with a fantastic 41pts.

Mark Gillard battled into a respectable second with 37pts, ahead of Paul Blackmore's 36pts.

Division 2 was won by Martin Hughes's 40pts, with junior Ben Barton second with 36pts. Nine of Ben's points were scored on just two holes when he recorded a two on the par 3 second and his first hole in one on the long par 3 10th. Mike Stroud was a game third on countback with an equalling 35pts.

In very windy conditions the Tuesday Mixed Fours competition was played with a Rye Foursomes format, an interesting variation for mixed competitions.

The winning pair with 36pts were Lady Captain Sue Ritchie with her husband Paul. In second place with 34pts were Hilda Hoepelman and Stan Squire.

The ladies' section saw the Daily Mail Foursomes Qualifying Competition take place.

In first place were lady vice-captain Jackie Seager and Henrietta Bradshaw with 31pts.

In second place were Diana Gee and Elizabeth Davies with 30pts.

In third place on countback were Sharon Dacre and Catherine Doherty 29pts. In fourth, losing out on countback, were Elizabeth Ward and Jan Portlock.

In the seniors' section, Seaton's boat finally came in with this week's Texas Scramble competition.

In teams of three, each representing the area in which they live, it was Vic Wood, Pat Purtell and Rob Sexton in the guise of the Seaton Seniors who stormed into first place with an impressive net score of 60.1, leaving the rest trailing in their wake.

Astern in second place were Jim Wallis, John Hill and Keith Crane as Offwell and Farway with 62.1, followed by Jack Phillips, Brian Hoepelman and Bill Eaton, the late entries, with 62.7, leaving the county cards of Harold Cook, Norman Fleet and Mike Stroud to take the final berth with 62.8.

Only four twos were recorded, two of which fell to John Dickinson, providing him with the additional ballast of 36 golf balls.

The return leg of the annual match with Exeter Golf and Country Club was also played this week.

This is keenly contested with the Stan Parker Trophy at stake.

Honiton, trailing by one game from the away leg, required a good performance to retain the trophy.

A 4-2 victory for Honiton saw the trophy remain in their cabinet for a further year.

HONITON NETBALL CLUB

Juniors perform well in their first outing

THE U13 and U14 squads of Honiton Netball Club, pictured right, took part in an open tournament on Saturday September 17th.

It was the first outing for both groups this season, and both teams performed well, finishing third overall in their age groups.

It was also the first time they had worn the new club kit which was designed by Paige Fahy of the U14s.

Club training is on Wednesday evenings from 7pm-8pm at Honiton Sports Centre and is open to girls in school years 7-11. For more information, contact club secretary Jenny Kelly at jknetball@tiscali.co.uk

FENITON BOWLING CLUB

Over-60s narrowly miss promotion

THE final matches of the over-60s triple league saw the A team finish third in Division Three only five points behind the runners-up, thereby just missing promotion.

Nevertheless, it is still the highest position that the club has achieved. Unfortunately, the B team have been relegated to Division Seven, finishing just three points from safety.

On a blustery afternoon at Hemyock the mixed team enjoyed a narrow victory by 73-66. The winning rinks were Norma Cox, Tony Young, Jo O'Sullivan and Roger Clarke 21-14, Frank Jones, Eddie Cox, Judy Smith and Richard North 16-15, and Glenys North, Anita Pritchard, Les Ley and Roger Smith 16-15.

They also completed the double over local rivals Honiton by 92-66. The winning rinks were Glynda Blackmore, Judy Smith, Martyn Eveleigh and Richard North 34-8, and John Dibble, Norma Cox, John Rolph and Roger Smith 27-11.

Congratulations to Lyn Eveleigh, Joss Edwards and Christine Granger on reaching the semi-finals of the Devon County Benevolent Triples, where they narrowly lost to North Tawton after playing two extra ends to lose by one shot

AXMINSTER OUTDOOR BOWLS

Club keeps its division place

AXMINSTER Outdoor Bowls Club's men's over 60s team had an excellent victory at home to Pincus Park in the Devon League to maintain their place in Division 4 (45-27).

The winning rinks were William Cook, John Chance, and Bob Sherborne (21-15) and David Harris, Frank Bridge, and Brian Clark (24-12).

The ladies took part in a Round-Robin Open Competition at Westlands recently and to their credit both sides came away with positive results - Lilian Lovatt, Chris Hobbs, Joan Quick, and Marion Harris (+6) and Muriel Smith, Phil White, Ann Clayton, and Margaret Crompton (also +6).

In the mixed friendlies we had bad results at Ottery (45-107) and at Culmvalle (45-86) with no winning rinks but came back strongly to beat Severalls at home (85-46) with winning rinks of Phil Bolwell, Phil White, and David Harris (32-10), Graham Ayres, Marion Harris, and Brian Clark (24-9) and Les Monk, John Chance, and Chris Todd (16-14), whilst June Teale, Barbara Mowatt, and Bob Sherborne tied (16-16).

We then won our last match of the season at home to Chardstock by a rather flattering 102-59 scoreline with wins for Phil Bolwell, Pam Hunter, Pam Clark, and Bob Sherborne (33-12), Les Monk, Chris Hobbs, Ann Clayton, and David Harris (28-9), and Cliff Bruckshaw, Pat Hicks, Mary Preston, and Marion Harris (27-16).

On the final day of the season the Gents defeated the Ladies by just three shots (62-59) in what turned out to be a very exciting and competitive game.

Ann Clayton was the heroine of the Club's Finals, winning five of the six competitions she entered.

Results:

Ladies' 4-wood singles: Margaret Crompton beat Ann Clayton (21-14). Mens' 4-wood singles: Bob Sherborne beat David Harris (21-20). Ladies' 2-wood singles: Ann Clayton beat Brenda Edwards (20-8). Mens' 2-wood singles: Brian Clark beat Andy Spiller (21-15).

Ladies' 101: Ann Clayton beat Margaret Crompton (108-95).

Mens' 101: Frank Bridge beat Bob Sherborne (105-94).

Ladies' 4-wood drawn pairs: Ann Clayton and Marion Harris beat Margaret Stancliffe and Eve Cole (30-17).

Mens' 4-wood drawn pairs: John Chance and Andy Spiller beat Frank Bridge and Roger Legg (25-14).

Mixed 3-wood drawn pairs: Ann Clayton and David Harris beat Phil White and Frank Bridge (23-11).

Mixed 4-wood drawn pairs: Ann Clayton and Roger Legg beat Margaret.

Crompton and David Harris (21-16).

Non-winners Theda Turner Trophy: Andy Spiller beat Liz Earl.

In the inter-club competitions the Triples was won by Daphne Ryan, the Umbrella by David Harris, and the Monday Evening League by David Harris and his team of Mo Boshier, Marion Harris, Andy Spiller, Pat Hicks, and William Cook.

SEATON BOWLS CLUB

ON September 12th Seaton Bowls Club played Taunton in a six mixed rink game and won by 127 shots to 94.

Seaton entertained White Horse Tourists in a six mixed rink match on September 14th which the tourists won by 116 shots to 104.

The club travelled to South Petherton for a four mixed rink game. Seaton won by 89 shots to 77. Top rink was Lilian Hurley-Smith, Ray Thompson, John Bellamy and Sue Rutter.

The re-arranged four mixed rink game against Westlands on September 16th ended in a narrow win for Seaton by 78 shots to 77.

The Minor Competitions Finals took place on September 17th. The Harmon Trophy which is open to ladies who have never won a singles competition, was won by Pat Whitworth runner-up Sue Banwell-Moore.

The Iris Amyes Trophy, a drawn ladies' two wood pairs competition, was won by Lilian Hurley-Smith and Marian Vessey, runners-up Sue Banwell-Moore and Barbara Harden.

Alan Wood won the George Fosset Trophy, a four wood singles competition. Richard Whitworth was the runner-up. The Ray Jeffreys Memorial Trophy, two wood drawn pairs, was won by Terry Hurley-Smith and Ken Shean, runners-up Alf Wilson and Alan Wood.

The day ended with the President's Cup — open to the last eight in both the ladies' and men's championship competitions — won by Ray MacDonald.

COLYTON FOOTBALL CLUB

COLYTON continued their unbeaten run this season with a 2-1 victory against south Devon opponents Chudleigh Athletic in Devon Senior Cup.

The match started at a high tempo with both teams looking to stamp their authority on the game.

Colyton shaded the first 20 minutes, playing some neat football, and were given an opportunity to take the lead when the opposing midfielder handled the ball inside the area.

Callum Somers stepped up and stroked the ball into the corner to put the home side ahead.

As the first half wore on, the visitors began to play themselves into the game and some hesitant defending allowed Chudleigh to nab an equaliser just before the break when a long range free kick was not dealt with, giving a free man at the back post the chance to poke the ball into the net.

On reflection 1-1 was a fair score line at half time, but the game was there for the taking and, as in previous weeks, the Tanners started the second half very strongly putting the visitors on the back foot for large periods while Chudleigh themselves didn't pose much of an attacking threat for the Coly defence.

After great work from George Moore, who was again impressive in midfield, Colyton were rewarded a free kick on the edge of the area.

It was the unlikely figure of centre-back Wayne Waddon who succeeded in curling the ball over the wall and into the bottom corner, leaving the keeper rooted to the spot.

Colyton nearly added to their lead late on with efforts from Somers and 16-year-old Jedd Feldman.

Although the fluency of previous weeks was not there, it was another very solid performance from Colyton who were delighted to welcome back Richard Tratt for his first game of the season.

Picking up the man of the match, sponsored by Paul Millman Electrical, was George Moore for another influential display.

Up next for Coly is an away trip to Clyst Valley.

NICK Eckland has praised his West and Middle Chinnock footballers after they fought back from trailing 2-0 to beat Combe 6-2 in a humdinger of a match in the first round of the Coronation Cup.

"At 2-0 down we were lucky to be in the game and while we got it back to 2-1 with a Damon Hallett goal they should have made it 3-1 when they were awarded a penalty with just five minutes to play," said Eckland.

"But our goalkeeper, Matt Alford, made a brilliant save to keep us in the match and then Nick Brown scored a 30-yard screamer to take it into extra time.

"It was really nice to win after that and the lads were terrific. I'm delighted with the result."

Having been handed that reprieve, Chinnock took full advantage in extra time with Ollie Hutchings scoring twice, Bond getting his second and skipper Damian Hart scoring from the penalty spot to ensure a comfortable victory that didn't reflect the opening 90 minutes.

It also took a late extra-time winner to put Ilminster Town into the next round of the Coronation Cup with a 3-2 win over Perry Street. George Scutt grabbed the vital goal in the closing minutes after earlier strikes from Bradley Miles and Jonny May after the initial 90 minutes had ended deadlocked at 1-1.

"I thought we played really well but just didn't take our chances," said Ilminster boss Rob Sutton.

Meanwhile, in the Devon Intermediate Cup, Millwey Rise moved into the next round with a 3-2 win at Bampton with Sam Dibling scoring twice and player-manager Shane Featherstone adding the third.

"They were a poor team and dragged us down to their level so it wasn't a great game," said Featherstone.

Millwey's reserve team also enjoyed a winning day with a 3-1 success at Luso Chard in Division Three to extend their unbeaten start to the season.

Carl German, Levy Hoole and Danny Larcombe wrapped up the points by half-time as manager Simon Flint's side cruised to victory.

In the Premier Division two goals apiece from Joe Bond and Jason Hawker earned Lyme Regis a 4-2 win over last season's Division One champions Crewkerne Town.

"We played really well, particularly in the first half but Crewkerne are a decent side, well organised and will cause teams a lot of problems this season," said Lyme manager Robin Townsend.

Lyme's Reserves also picked up three points with a 3-1 win at Ilminster Colts in Division One with both Jack Durrent and Roger Patterson getting on the scoresheet.

Biggest win of the day came in Division Four as Barrington reserves hammered Uplyme Reserves 11-1.

Jamie Park led the way with a hat-trick, while both Paul Lewis and Tommy Nakayama scored doubles. Dave Lock, Phil Bennett and two own goals completed the rout as Barrington claimed their first league win of the season.

Also in Division Four Chard United Reserves went top with their second win in three games after beating Ilminster Town A 3-0 with Dan Wilcox taking centre stage with a superb hat-trick.

"He was our star man," said Chard boss Steve Scriven.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE

ST MARTIN'S are through to the first round proper of the Graddon Vending Premier cup after beating Heavitree Social United 3-0.

The score was not unexpected but Saints played the entire match with only nine men because of holidays and injuries.

Tariq El-Zahri, with two superb goals, and Lelsala Fofana scored for the Saints, leaving Heavitree distraught.

Thorverton stormed into the next round after crushing Georgeham and Croyde. Lawrence Khoo, Lee Riggs, Steve Millington, Emlin Harris, Darren Osmond and an own goal put paid to the North Devon side.

Willand Reserves beat Elburton 2-0, with Tom Beddows getting two second-half goals, but Clyst Valley crashed out after conceding a 90th-minute winner at Loddisswell Athletic, where the reigning South Devon Senior Cup holders won 3-2. Aaron Haizeldene and Luke Skinner scored for Clyst.

Morchard Bishop had to come from behind to hold Premier Division leaders Seaton Town to a 2-2 draw. Phil Greenslade gave Morchard the lead, but two quick goals from Ollie Hightett and Alex Wheatley presented Seaton with the advantage.

Matt Woodward then scored for Morchard who felt they ought to have gone on and won it.

Topsham Town take over second place after they won 6-2 at Hatherleigh Town. Ace High, their top scorer, netted a hat-trick, Stewart Tyrer scored twice and Kenny Smith once for the Tops. Simon James grabbed both for Hatherleigh, who also had their fair share of chances.

Newtown hit Beer Albion with a barrage of goals, winning 5-0. Corey O'Donoghue, (2), Dale O'Donoghue, Luke Hunt and a Jake Hobbs penalty did the business for the city side.

Barnstaple Town Reserves were short of half their side for the visit of Budleigh Salterton Reserves, but still emerged 3-1 winners. William Tucker, (2), and Adam Baxter scored for Barum, Hugo Dimitri replied for the Robins.

East Budleigh beat Alphington Reserves 2-0 with Si Tuley and Martin Marriott scoring. Alphonington battled bravely but had a goal disallowed.

The Phoenix Club gained revenge for their midweek 2-0 defeat at Wellington Town Reserves in Division One by winning the return 2-1. Matt Finn, who was man of the match, scored the winner.

Cullumpton Reserves enjoyed their first league victory, beating Chagford 5-2. Danny Barnard, (2), Matthew Scott with a penalty, Stuart Pears and Aiden Moyle had the Rangers' goals.

Tipton St John beat Witheridge Reserves, 3-1, with Ash Small, Adam Connert and their best player Jake Freeman getting the goals. Adam Findon scored first for Withy.

Topsham Town Reserves won the only game played in Division Two, beating Elmore Reserves, 6-0. Alby May scored twice for the Tops.

Colatun Raleigh won 3-2 against Dawlish United in Division Three, Graham Hughes, Adrian Parr and Jake Boyland scoring, but Axminster Town Reserves failed to raise a side to travel to North Tawton.

Lymstone are through to the third round of the Firewatch Devon Senior cup after beating Windsor Car Sales 6-5 on penalties. The pair had finished

FIRST WITH THE LOCAL SPORT NEWS AND RESULTS EVERY WEEK

4-4 after extra time. Tedburn St Mary also won a penalty shoot-out against Hookhills after drawing 1-1, but Thorverton Reserves lost their spotkick showdown at Newton United after drawing 3-3 after extra time.

Halwill won 4-0 at Seaton Reserves, with Tom Hall. Whipton & Pinhoe beat Upton, 3-0, Justin Dymond getting a hat-trick, and there was also a treble for Ross Chapwood for Sidbury United in their 4-0 win at Barnstaple AAC.

Pete Hensor and Sam Brunt were on target for Broadclyst 2-0 winners against South Zeal, and Callum Somers and Wayne Waddon scored for Colyton as they put out Chudleigh 2-1.

Culm United beat Kingsteignton 3-0 on penalties after drawing 2-2. Northam Lions were unable to raise a side for their tie at Feniton.

Second defeat but boss takes scoreline hope

By KEVIN FAHEY
 pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

Throgmorton Cup first round
 Axminster Town 1
 Crediton Utd 3

AXMINSTER manager Ray Self was able to take some consolation out of this cup defeat having lost to the same side 7-0 on the opening day of the Carlsberg South West League season.

Mr Self said: "As the scoreline suggests we are improving.

"They were the better side but we gave a good account of ourselves and that is something to carry into our next game.

"We just have to stop giving away soft goals."

Danny Beer, who was arguably the Tigers' man-of-the-match, scored late on for the home side who, to their credit, never gave up battling.

Ottery St Mary 0
 Exmouth Town 7

Ottery St Mary boss David Weeks had to plunder his youth team to field a side after his senior XI was decimated by injuries or unavailability.

"We had 16 players missing so I had to play a bunch of under 17 players and it was just too big a step up," said Weeks.

"They worked hard but it was always going to be difficult against a top team like Exmouth but hopefully they will have learned something from this match."
